An Able-Bodied Scare.

Somebody in Washington has been telling the correspondent of the Pittsburg Chronic's Telegraph that the Democrats have learned that John W. Mason, formerly commissioner of internal reve nue, is to be nominated against William L. Wilson. The information seems to have produced something very like a

At all events it is said that the Democrats can raise $100,000 to help Mr. Wilson through, that the best speakers in the Democratic party would be thrown into the Second district of West Virginia, and that Chairman Harrity of the national committee would run the campaign for Mr. Wilson,

The INTELLIGENCER has not heard that Mr. Mason has any desire to go to Congress. Just now he is giving close attention to his law practice. In his time he has given Mr. Wilson a clase brush for Congress, and that was before Mr. Wilson became the responsible parent of a bill to play hob with the industries of his district,

Whether a Republican can now feat Mr. Wilson and $100,000 and all the big Democratic speakers and Chairman Harrity and the rest of them, is something to think about. The Republicans of the Second district will do their best to retire Mr. Wilson next time, and he has no great margin to come and go on,

Isn'r it about time for any protectionists who linger in the Democratic party to leave the organization which is seeking to do the very thing they do not want done? This is what every one of them would do at once in any other

A Sort of Tweed Judge Affair.

The New York Ecening Post reads Judge Truax a lecture for making Hugh J. Grant receiver of the St. Nicholas Bank. As sheriff and later as mayor Grant showed himself anything but a business man. As sheriff the grand jury presented his administration of his office as a public scandal. As mayor he stood in with the worst elements and placed their representatives in important positions.

The appointment recalls the days of Tweed and his gang, when they had judges of their own to do their bidding. The Evening Post adds that the appointment of Grant as a bank receiver "displays extraordinary boldness, and the worst of it is-the worst for the honor of the bench-it is connected in many minds with the fact that Judge Truax's term of office expires next fall," The judge is looking to the Hugh Grant kind of men to retain him on the bench.

It has been seen that it is possible in New York to arouse the other kind-of men. This act of Judge Truax may result in putting on the bench a man more worthy of the confidence of the people. There are some encouraging signs in the great city of New York. The people are getting their eyes open and beginning to believe in their own atrength.

As long as corruptionists can make the people believe themselves impotent the corruptionists will rule.

On to Washington!

Everybody who opposes the passage of the Wilson bill should let his representative in Congress know of his opposition. Men who voted the Democratic ticket should take special pains to advise Democratic representatives that they do not want the Wilson bill and would resent with their votes the page- | country will be glad to know of it.

age of that measure. That kind of protest would bring some representatives to time.

American Railroad Management, The straits which compelled an application for a receivership for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system are calling out adverse criticisms on the other side of the ocean. In England it is said that a reassuring statement was given out at the very time when arrangements were going on for a receivership for the Atchison; and this fact is made the basis of an assault on American railroad management.

It is said, among other things, that many of these properties are managed. it would be better to say manipulated, from the point of view of the stock jobber rather than of the railroad manager. The worst of this criticism is that it is true. It does not, of course, apply to all American railroads, but it applies to enough to give a strong pratext for criticising all.

We cannot be indifferent to foreign criticism of American railroad management, for we have invited foreign investors to put their money in these properties and are likely to lay other railroad projects before them. If we give them a bad experience we can hardly hope that they will be reckless enough to be glad to take the chance of more of the same kind.

THE contest for the speakership of the Ohio house is getting lively. Griffin and Boxwell have not been able to keep the sparring to themselves. Haskell, of Lorain, is putting up something of a fight and is believed to be making some headway.

A Good Offer to Pittsburgh. Andrew Carnegie notifies the Pittsburgh relief committee that he will give to the help of the needy in that city as much as may be given by all others together up to $5,000 a day for the next two months.

If the people of Pittsburgh accept the bumane challenge they will give $250,-000, Mr. Carnegie will do the same, and the relief fund for the next two months will aggregate half a million dollars. This is great giving.

Mr. Carnegie hopes the money may be used in providing work for the needy, the very best form of ralief. In his letter notifying the committee of his intention this very rich man tells the other righ men of Pittsburgh that it is their duty to give according to their What's in a Name.

A letter from Switzerland addressed to Monsieur Mary Elen Lease and containing a certificate of membership in the International Peace Society, excites comment.

Among English-speaking peoples Mary is a woman's name. Among the Latin races the equivalents, Marie, Maria, are very commonly used as men's names. This fact taken in connection with Mrs. Lesse's active participation in public affairs, led to the mistaken supposition the Mrs. Lease is a man.

Mrs. Lease has done a little readjusting of conditions by virtually exchanging places with her husband, who has time to reflect as he rocks the cradic and manipulates the rolling pin.

Mr. Cleveland's Successor.

It is early to be working up a boom for ex-President Harrison or anybody else. When the time draws near the man will be found. Unless all the signs change he will be found in Ohio.

On this point it may be added that the Ohio man can get along without any officious nursing, and so can General Harrison. They are both full-grown men in whom their party has great confidence.

The Republican party will select a leader who will be worthy of the confidence of the country, and that nominee will be the next President. This should satisfy those who wish the Republican party well.

The Tobacco Tax.

Mr. Pendleton and the Revister thought there was no intention to increase the tobacco tax, and the Wheeling folks were assured that they were allowing themselves to become excited without sufficient cause.

Now that the secretary of the treasury has made a recommendation on this line, and since it is understood that the administration will endeavor to impress this policy on the bill, perhaps Wheeling men interested in this industry are at liberty to have some views on the subject and to express them in the way they may think best.

THE associated charities of Cleveland spent $14,000 this month for the relief of the needy. The work goes on and those interested in it are devising ways and means for keeping up the supply for the three months to come. So it goes the country over.

Out in a Blizzard

Mr. J. P. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so theroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing quite casily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful.
